

Government and Regulation Law

I. Introductory Course – U.S. Constitutional Law I (1st year)

III. Basic Courses

U.S. Constitutional Law II

Administrative Law

Legislation

IV. Regulatory Courses

Alcoholic Beverages Law

Antitrust

Aviation Law

Advanced Immigration Seminar

Bankruptcy (Commercial Law I prereq.)

Communications Law

Civil Rights, Economic Justice and Independent Media

Employment Discrimination

Environmental Law

Everglades/Ecosystem Restoration Seminar

Finance and Regulation of Health Care

Health Care Practicum

International Business Transactions

Immigration

Immigration Law Clinic

Insurance Law and Policy

Securities Regulation (Business Assoc. prereq.)

Labor or Labor & Employment Law

Law and Medicine

Land Use Law

National Security Law Seminar

Race, Ethnicities and Law

Removal and Asylum Workshop

State & Local Government

Toxic Torts and Toxic Regulation

Wine Law Seminar

V. Useful Courses

Civil Procedure II

Evidence

Substantive Criminal Law

International Law

Florida Constitutional Law

Federal Courts/Jurisdiction

Students interested in working in government or representing clients in matters before regulatory institutions should take Constitutional Law II and Administrative Law in the second year in order to get the most out of specific regulatory settings. These second year courses should be supplemented by any prerequisite courses for Regulatory Courses and some of the Useful Courses for a balanced curriculum. Thereafter the student should pick and choose some courses, but not all, from the regulatory group in order to see in specific settings how statutes are interpreted and applied in administrative institutions.

Introduction, cont.

Students should consult the faculty members who teach in the regulatory areas of substantive interest to them.