OVERVIEW

The University of Miami School of Law proudly announces its 2007 LONDON SUMMER PROGRAM, an exciting seven-and-a-half week summer study program presented at Bentham House, the Faculty of Laws building of University College London (UCL). Located centrally in the Bloomsbury district of London, UCL offers an ideal living and learning experience for the study of law abroad. In 2006, 35 students in the first session and 75 students in the second session from all over the United States participated in the LONDON SUMMER PROGRAM. Of these students, a combined total of forty-five were from fifteen law schools other than the University of Miami School of Law. Students from over 120 different law schools have attended previous programs in London over the last fifteen years. It is anticipated that 2007 enrollment will be approximately 40 in the first session and 80 students in the second session.

The 2007 LONDON SUMMER PROGRAM will begin on June 10 and end on August 1, 2007. Courses will be taught by members of the faculty of law from the University of Miami School of Law, University of Westminster, Oxford University and distinguished universities in the United Kingdom. Each student will enroll in a required two-credit course from June 11-29 and enroll in two courses from an offering of four two-credit courses from July 9-August 1 for a total of six credits and will participate in many exciting and informative excursions.

Single room accommodations in eight bedroom self-catered flats, each bedroom having its own bathroom, are provided in Frances Gardner House residential hall, a modern UCL dormitory. Frances Gardner House is located on Wren Street off Gray's Inn Road in Central London, approximately a twenty-minute walk from the UCL Faculty of Laws school building.

The LONDON SUMMER PROGRAM is one of the best located, most comprehensive and most inclusive summer abroad program. An exciting array of special events and guided tours are included at program expense.

A ten-day break period is scheduled during which students may take advantage of an Italy Optional Trip presented by Contiki Holidays, the world's largest travel company for 18 to 35 year olds, or travel to European destinations on their own. In 2006, nearly 50 students enjoyed the Italy Optional Trip to Rome/Assisi/Siena/San Gimignano/Florence/Pisa/Cinque Terre/La Spezia/Verona/Venice.

ABOUT BENTHAM HOUSE, UNIVERSITY COLLEGE LONDON

University College London, founded in 1826, is the oldest and largest college of the University of London, a federal university of over 40 individual colleges and schools. It is on a ten-acre campus in an environment of quiet leafy squares in the heart of London, one of the world's most vibrant and interesting cities.

Classes for the LONDON SUMMER PROGRAM will be conducted at Bentham House, the law school building of the Faculty of Laws of UCL. Bentham House is an outstanding modern law school building. All classrooms utilized at UCL have been recently remodeled and air-conditioned. The Faculty of Laws at UCL is internationally renown as one of the very best law schools in the United Kingdom.

LONDON CULTURE AND RECREATION

Few cities anywhere in the world have such an enduring appeal. London continues to surprise students with its marvelous blend of Old World traditions and its ever trend-setting cultural scene. London's many cultural attractions are a mere walk away from campus, making travel and access simple and inexpensive. Museums, such as the British Museum, the British Library, art galleries, specialty exhibits and historic pageantry are all there for your enjoyment.

The city caters to a wide variety of entertainment as well, serving up everything from rock, raves and jazz to the latest stage productions offered at more than 50 theatres. The West End, close to the campus, offers more than 20 theatres, the Royal Opera House, the National Gallery, and the National Portrait Gallery. The open-air market of Covent Garden and the lively Soho area, with its pubs, restaurants, and nightclubs, are a pleasant stroll away. Whether you seek to see its modern side or explore its famous past, your stay in London will surely be an experience you'll never forget.

THE ACADEMIC PROGRAM

Students enrolled in the LONDON SUMMER PROGRAM will take one required 2- credit course from June 11-26 and two 2-credit courses from an offering of four courses from July 9-27. Orientation and first day of classes will be conducted on the morning of Monday, June 11, 2007. Eight additional classes, each of 155 minutes duration are scheduled in total between June 11 and June 27. Examination will be held on Thursday, June 28, scheduled for late afternoon/early evening. A break period of 10 days from June 29-July 8, 2007, follows during which students can explore Europe on their own or participate in the ITALY OPTIONAL TRIP provided exclusively by Contiki Holidays. The break period does not include housing or transportation. The ITALY OPTIONAL TRIP commences in Rome and ends in Venice. Students must make their own arrangement for air travel from London to Rome and from Venice to London in order to participate in the ITALY OPTIONAL TRIP.

Upon return of the ten-day break period a mandatory program director's greeting and a Plenary Lecture Session followed by the first day of classes and mandatory orientation will be conducted on Monday, July 9. Thirteen additional classes, each of 100 minutes duration are scheduled in total between July 9 and July 27. Saturday, July 28, and Sunday, July 29, are reading days. Examinations will be held Monday, July 30, and Tuesday, July 31, 2007. All courses comply with the standards of the American Bar Association and the Association of American Law Schools. Students should contact their present law school regarding the possibility of accelerated graduation, and, where appropriate, converting semester credits to a quarter system.

Upon completion of the 2007 LONDON SUMMER PROGRAM, an official transcript from the University of Miami will be mailed to the student's law school and confirmation will be mailed to the student's present address. The University of Miami School of Law employs an A, B+, B, C+, C, C-, D, and F grading system. The transferability of credits will be determined by the student's present law school. Inquiry should be made in advance of application.

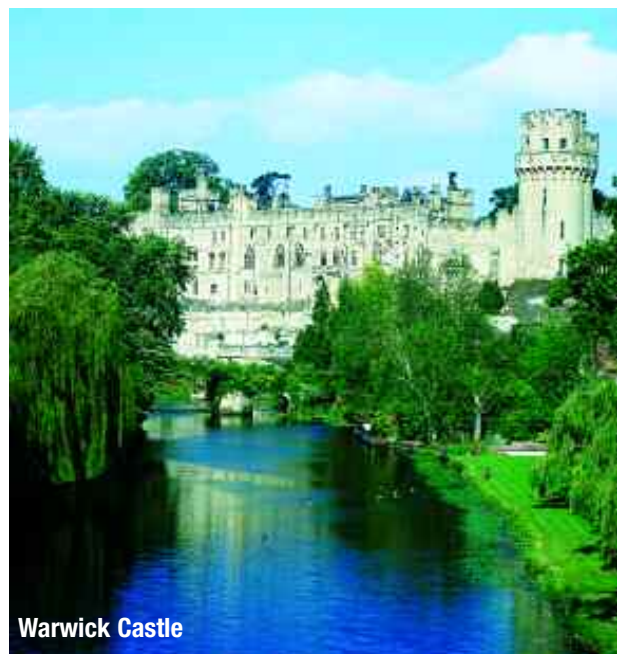

PROGRAM EXCURSIONS

The LONDON SUMMER PROGRAM incorporates a 4-day weekend trip to Paris, June 14-17. Students will depart London on Thursday morning for Paris, returning to London late Sunday. The excursion to Paris includes at program expense Eurostar transportation and accommodations, guided sightseeing tours including Versailles, the Arc de Triomphe, and the Eiffel Tower, as well as a mandatory Tour of Legal Paris. The logistical component of the Paris Weekend is being arranged by Contiki Holidays.

During the second weekend, June 21-23, students will be invited to our traditional 3-day Cotswold weekend trip to the English countryside which encompasses several outstanding attractions. The trip includes guided visits to Oxford (home of the Colleges of Oxford University), Warwick Castle (one of the finest examples of a medieval castle anywhere in Europe), Stratford-Upon-Avon (birthplace of William Shakespeare), the Roman city of Bath, and Stonehenge.

During the second session of the 2007 LONDON SUMMER PROGRAM students will visit legal London including a luncheon at Middle Temple Inn and visit to Parliament. We'll also take you on a fascinating boat cruise highlighted by colorful commentary describing London's key attractions visible from the River Thames.

As you can see, a significant effort is made at program expense to introduce our LONDON SUMMER PROGRAM students to a wide variety of legal, cultural and historical attractions. Student response to our fifteen previous programs centered in London has been overwhelmingly enthusiastic.

Warwick Castle

THREE-DAY WEEKEND BREAK

A three-day weekend break is provided from Friday, July 20, through Sunday, July 22, so that students can explore Scotland, Ireland, Amsterdam, etc., on their own.

END OF TERM PARTY

The 2007 LONDON SUMMER PROGRAM concludes with an end of term party in London co-hosted by UCL and the LONDON SUMMER PROGRAM at the UCL Student Union Center.

COURSES

INTERNATIONAL CIVIL DISPUTE RESOLUTION

(Required 2-Credit Course, first session)

Professor Michael H. Graham, University of Miami School of Law. This course will cover transnational civil litigation initiated outside of the United States; recognition and enforcements of foreign judgments in the United States; recognition and enforcement of United States judgments in foreign countries; foreign sovereign immunity; the Act of State doctrine; and mediation and arbitration.

STUDENTS SELECT TWO OUT OF FOUR COURSE

OFFERINGS (second session):

GLOBAL LAWYERING (2 CREDITS)

Professor John Flood, University of Westminster School of Law, London. Now that commerce and financial services are twenty-four/seven activities, law has had to adapt to the new order. This course explores a number of issues that arise from the globalization of law, especially the phenomenon of globalization itself, the growth of the global law firm, the development of multidisciplinary practice, the adaptation of legal education to globalization, and what lawyers contribute to global legal practice. Topics include “Globalization; economic and cultural principles” (including some differences in legal systems), and the growth of the large firm and the emergence of the global law firm, with special reference to the U.S. and the U.K. We will also look at the privatization of dispute resolution through arbitration, Chinese ways of forming relationships, the globalization of bankruptcy, and from a human rights perspective, how landless and dispossessed peoples are struggling to redefine globalization in their favor.

TRANSNATIONAL FAMILY LAW (2 CREDITS)

Professor Mary I. Coombs, University of Miami School of Law. Marriages, divorces, adoptions, and other standard family law issues increasingly take place across national boundaries. Family law lawyers even in small town, Midwest America must thus increasingly be aware of comparative and international law regarding family law issues. This course will examine the usual range of family law issues: the formation of marriage and non-marital intimate partnerships; the obligations and rights between parties to an ongoing relationship; financial obligations at dissolution (property division and support); how legally recognized parental relationships are formed and rights and duties (both financial and personal) of adults to 'their' children. It will do so through the lenses of comparative and international law: we will consider the different rules and practices of different States, the conflict-of-law rules and treaty obligations that govern when one State must recognize the rules of another, and the effect of public international law human rights rules on (at least some) of these rules.

INTERNATIONAL HUMAN RIGHTS (2 CREDITS)

Professor Andreas Philippopoulos-Mihalopoulos University of Westminster School of Law. The course aims to introduce students to the basic mechanisms of Human Rights on a regional and international level. While introductory, the course will be highly demanding in terms of intellectual discussion and theoretical thinking. The course delivery will be critical both of the institutions and the mechanisms of Human Rights Law, and will encourage students to think broadly and critically. To this effect the course will introduce extralegal considerations that inform the interpretation of Human Rights Law, such as geopolitics, religion, philosophy, and theories of legal pluralism, deconstruction, proceduralism, autopoiesis, feminism, humanism and globalization.

INTERNATIONAL LITIGATION: TRADE INVESTMENT AND INTER-STATE DISPUTES (2 CREDITS)

Professor Dapo Akande, Oxford University. This course is concerned with the litigation and arbitration of international disputes. For the purposes of this course an international dispute is defined as a dispute in which at least one party is a State. The course therefore examines the litigation of disputes arising solely between States as well as the litigation and arbitration of disputes between States and private entities (individuals and corporations). The course begins with an examination of the litigation of inter-state disputes before the International Court of Justice. The second part of the course will focus on the arbitration of investment and other disputes between private parties and States. Particular attention will be paid to the procedures and problems of international commercial arbitration and the International Centre for the Settlement of Investment Disputes (ICSID). The third section of the course will examine the resolution of international trade disputes. In this section, we will focus on the dispute resolution processes of the World Trade Organization (WTO) and the North American Free Trade Agreement (NAFTA).

THE FACULTY

DAPO AKANDE, is a University Lecturer in Public International and a Fellow of St. Peter's College, University of Oxford. He holds law degrees from the University of Ife (in Nigeria) and the London School of Economics. He was previously a faculty member at the Universities of Nottingham and of Durham (in England) and has also taught law at the London School of Economics, the University of Cambridge and the University of Edinburgh. He was recently a Visiting Professor at the University of Miami School of Law. In addition, he has assisted and advised counsel in several international law cases before international and national courts. He has published articles on different aspects of international law in leading journals such as the American Journal of International Law, the British Yearbook of International Law and the European Journal of International Law. His research interests include international dispute settlement, international organizations, international criminal law and international economic law.

MARY I. COOMBS, Professor of Law at the University of Miami School of Law received her B.A., M.A. and J.D. from the University of Michigan and clerked for Judge Henry Friendly of the Second Circuit Court of Appeals. She has visited at Boston and St. John's University's law schools. Professor Coombs teaches at the University of Miami School of Law in the areas of family law, criminal law, torts, law and medicine and, in the Barcelona summer program in 2004, transnational family law. She has published most recently in the areas of law and medicine, public international law, and family law.

JOHN FLOOD, Professor of Law and Sociology at the University of Westminster School of Law, is both a lawyer and a sociologist with law degrees from the U.K. (LL.B., London School of Economics; LL.M., Warwick University) and the U.S. (LL.M., Yale Law School) and a sociology Ph.D. from Northwestern University. He has researched and taught at the American Bar Foundation (Chicago), Indiana University (Bloomington), European University Institute (Florence). His research and numerous publications has focused on two themes, the legal profession and the globalization of law. He is currently Visiting Professor at Institute for the Study of the Transformation of the State, Bremen University, Germany.

MICHAEL H. GRAHAM, Professor of Law at the University of Miami School of Law, received a B.S.E. from the University of Pennsylvania in 1964 and a J.D. in 1967 from Columbia Law School. Professor Graham has taught evidence, civil procedure, conflict of laws, trial advocacy, and transnational litigation. He has written eleven books and numerous articles in the field of evidence including a textbook and nutshell for students.

ANDREAS PHILIPPOPOULOS-MIHALOPOULOS, is a Reader in law at the University of Westminster. He holds an LL.B from Aristotle University of Thessaloniki, Greece, in conjunction with Universidad Central, Barcelona; an LL.M in environmental law from King's College, University of London; and a Ph.D. in law from Birkbeck College, University of London. He has taught at Birkbeck and University College London, at the Centre for Politics, Management and Philosophy at Copenhagen Business School, and in the U.S. at Cleveland State University. He has published two books, "Law and the City", and "Absent Environments: Theorising Environmental Law and the City", both with Routledge, as well as various articles on the topics of risk, gender, phenomenology, art, human rights, urban theory, and environmental law. His research interests include critical legal theory, geography, psychoanalysis, and European Union law.

COURSE MATERIALS

All courses will be self-contained. Books and other required course materials will be provided in advance of departure to London for the required course, International Civil Dispute Resolution. Books and other required course materials for the remaining four courses will be supplied at the Organizational Meeting on Monday, July 9, in London. All courses will be taught in English.

Scotland Church

LAW LIBRARY AND STUDENT UNION

Students may frequent the law library of the Faculty of Laws, and upon request, the law library of the University of London. Students may obtain access, for a fee, to the University College London Student Union, a center of social, cultural, recreational and sports activities.

COMPUTER ACCESS

Computer clusters located at UCL Faculty of Laws will be available for student use. In addition computer clusters located at Langton Close, just to the rear of Frances Gardner House residence hall will also be available. Students may access computer points located in each bedroom of Frances Gardner House self-catered flats at additional expense.

ACCOMMODATIONS

The educational experience in London will be steeped in legal tradition, but the accommodations will feature all the comforts and convenience of contemporary London. Students will reside at Frances Gardner House UCL residence hall self-catering flats of up to eight persons.

This recently built residence is comprised of single en suite rooms, arranged as cluster flats, all with their own fully-equipped kitchen/dining area. Each bedroom has its own bathroom, telephone, and computer data point. This residence is located just to the rear of Langton Close, so students at Frances Gardner House can easily access facilities at Langton Close, which include a large TV room, a small study room used during the day, vending machines and a coin-operated laundry room.

The residential hall is within an approximately 20-minute walking distance to the UCL Faculty of Laws building where classes will be conducted.

Housing accommodations are not included during the break period, June 29 through July 7 inclusive. Storage for excess baggage during the break period will be provided. If you plan to remain in London during that time, you must make prior arrangements with UCL Frances Gardner House upon your arrival in London.

Prior arrangements for self-directed travel during the break period are recommended.

ROOMMATES

For the 4-day weekend to Paris and the 3-day weekend to the English Countryside students will share twin rooms at superior tourist class hotels with private facilities. Students may elect to share accommodations provided both parties make the same request.

Students will share eight bedroom cluster flats at Frances Gardner House during the program. Students should also consider whether they would like to room with persons they know rather than be randomly assigned same sex roommates. Every effort is made to accommodate student roommate requests. However, due to late cancellations and no-shows the assignment of roommates is subject to change without notice.

TRANSPORTATION

Students attending the 2007 LONDON SUMMER PROGRAM are expected to make their own arrangements for transportation to England (departing the U.S. on Saturday evening) to arrive on Sunday, June 10, at either Heathrow (preferred) or Gatwick International Airports. Early booking is essential as London is a very popular tourist destination. Students not participating in the Italy Optional Trip during the Break Period from June 29-July 8, 2007, are expected to make their own travel arrangements for self-directed travel. Additionally, students must make their own arrangements for air travel to Rome from London and from Venice to London in order to participate in the Italy Optional Trip exclusively arranged by Contiki Holidays. Be sure to include in your travel arrangements departure from London at program's end.

ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS

Any student in good standing at a law school who will have completed one year of academic work prior to June 30, 2007, is eligible for the program, as are law graduates. Students attending a law school other than the University of Miami School of Law will be required to furnish a letter of good standing before the Program begins. The University of Miami School of Law reserves the discretion to request additional information evidencing the applicant's suitability to attend any of the 2007 Summer Abroad Programs.

Enrollment is limited. Applications accompanied by the $250 registration fee and guarantee tuition deposit of $300, the latter to be credited against Tuition, Activities Fee, and Related Expenses, must be received by March 30, 2007. Applications received after the March 30th deadline, which are accompanied by the registration fee, guarantee tuition deposit, and payment(s) then due, will be considered subject to space and accommodation availability.

BREAK PERIOD/ITALY OPTIONAL TRIP

So that students may visit the European continent in depth, a ten-day break period has been incorporated into the 2007 LONDON SUMMER PROGRAM. No classes or field trips are scheduled from June 29 through July 8, 2007. Housing at UCL's Frances Gardner House residential hall does not include the break period. Students remaining in London may, however, make arrangements directly with Frances Gardner House to reside at additional expense.

Contiki Holidays, the world's largest travel company for 18-35 year olds, is offering the 2007 LONDON SUMMER

Stonehenge, England

PROGRAM students an optional ten-day guided tour of Italy as indicated on the schedule below. Included in the ITALY OPTIONAL TRIP is transportation by air-conditioned coach, services of a Contiki Tour Manager throughout, Continental breakfasts daily and some evening meals. Accommodations in Superior Tourist Class hotels at group prices are also being arranged by Contiki Holidays which is solely responsible for the conduct of the ITALY OPTIONAL TRIP. In 2006, nearly 50 students enjoyed the ITALY OPTIONAL TRIP arranged by Contiki Holidays.

In order to participate in the ten-day ITALY OPTIONAL TRIP students must make their own arrangements for air travel on Friday, June 29, to Rome from London and return on Sunday, July 8, from Venice to London.

For those who are interested in participating in the ITALY OPTIONAL TRIP arranged by Contiki Holidays, a $300 deposit is required at time of registration. As explained more fully in this brochure under Payment Schedule for ITALY OPTIONAL TRIP Cancellation Policy, the deposit is non-refundable except if the ITALY OPTIONAL TRIP is cancelled due to insufficient enrollment. The ITALY OPTIONAL TRIP is presented by Contiki Holidays which is solely responsible for its conduct.

The ITALY OPTIONAL TRIP is priced so as to pass along to all participants all the savings realized from group travel. The cost of the land portion of the ITALY OPTIONAL TRIP is $1,048 plus applicable air fare. The foregoing price is also subject to adjustment, up or down, should there be a currency fluctuation.

The ITALY OPTIONAL TRIP is subject to cancellation for insufficient enrollment. In case of such cancellation, the $300 deposit will be refunded. Enrollment in the ITALY OPTIONAL TRIP is subject to space availability, which is limited in part by the size of the coach. Enrollment is on a first come (deposit received), first serve basis.

Finally, it is the participant's responsibility to have a valid passport and all visas, permits and certificates required for the ITALY OPTIONAL TRIP. U.S. citizens only need a valid passport.

LUGGAGE

Coaches have limited space for luggage. On the excursions to Paris and the English Countryside during the first half of the program, as well as on the Italy Optional Trip (if participating) luggage is restricted to one large size suitcase with a maximum weight of 20 kilos (44 lbs) plus one small hand/day bag that can go on the coach with you. No external metal frame backpacks are allowed because their bulky shape makes coach packing difficult. Students with excess luggage may be required to ship their excess luggage at their own expense.

STUDENT LOANS/FINANCIAL AID

All Miami students eligible for student loans may apply through the Financial Aid Office of the University of Miami School of Law. Applications for financial aid must be completed and submitted to the University of Miami Law School Financial Aid office by the end of March 2007.

The financial aid budget available for the 2007 London Summer Program is adequate to meet all your financial needs associated with your summer study of law abroad but it is not generous. In addition to the federally regulated Stafford loan, students can also apply for a Graduate Plus loan, which together fund the full cost of the program. The Graduate Plus loan is also a guaranteed federally regulated loan employing the same processing system as the Stafford loan. Both loans should be applied for at the same time, if needed.

All visiting students should apply early through their home school and check with their financial aid office regarding processing of consortium agreements, loans, and check disbursements of funds. Please liaison with our Financial Aid Office, telephone (305) 284-3115, fax (305) 284-5868, or email: finaid@law.miami.edu to ensure processing of your funds. All registration fees, tuition and housing costs must be paid for by the time the program starts.

LIABILITY

The University of Miami School of Law will not be responsible for personal injuries to students or for loss or damage to personal property within or in transit to the London Summer Program or any Summer Abroad program destination.

HEALTH AND TRAVEL INSURANCE

Students must obtain insurance that provides reimbursement for health care abroad and should consult their home school or current insurance policy to determine health insurance eligibility. In addition, students are strongly advised to consider purchasing travel insurance that covers trip cancellation or interruption.

For further information, please contact STAtavel.com or call their toll-free number at 1-800-781-4040 for a complete description of purchasing travel insurance coverage, medical protection / health insurance, travel accident protection, worldwide emergency assistance and travel deals and discounts.

Contiki Holidays can provide travel insurance for the portions of the summer abroad programs operated by Contiki Holidays. Please contact Contiki Customs Groups toll-free number at 1-866-652-4483 or groups@contiki.com for pricing and details.

DISABLED STUDENTS

The 2007 LONDON SUMMER PROGRAM is generally accessible to individuals with disabilities and special accommodations requests. Special accommodations requests should be made at the same time of application. For further information, please contact the University of Miami School of Law Disabilities Services at (305) 284-2599.

PASSPORTS AND VISAS

It is each participant's responsibility to have a valid passport and all visas, permits and certificates required for all Summer Abroad Programs destinations. U.S. citizens only need a valid passport. All others should contact the Consulate Office of the country or countries being visited to inquire about visa entries.

Students participating in the Italy Optional Trip are in addition responsible for obtaining all visas, permits and certificates required for Italy. U.S. citizens only need a valid passport.

DROP/ADD COURSES

Due to the structure of the Summer Abroad Programs, there will be no drop/add period on site. This will be strictly adhered to. Students may drop/add a course before the registration deadline of March 30th.

Parliament and Thames River

SWITCHING PROGRAMS

All students are required to choose one Summer Abroad Program. Due to considerations involving logistics, planning preparation, course materials, deposits, etc., there will be no program switching between programs after the March 30th deadline.

EARLY ARRIVAL

Unless you've made previous housing arrangements, it is not necessary to arrive earlier than the LONDON SUMMER PROGRAM commencement date, Sunday, June 10, 2007. There are no pre-night stays at Frances Gardner House residential hall. Pre-night stays in single room accommodations at your own expense at hotels in London can be costly.

HOTEL BOOKINGS

All hotel arrangements provided by Contiki Holidays are subject to availability. If required, hotels of similar quality will be substituted.

ENROLLMENT

Enrollment in the 2007 LONDON SUMMER PROGRAM is limited. Students will be accepted on a deposits received, first-come, first-serve basis.

CANCELLATION OR TERMINATION OF PROGRAM

The 2007 LONDON SUMMER PROGRAM is being offered subject to change or cancellation by the University of Miami School of Law depending on sufficient enrollment and availability of faculty members. If cancellation of the 2007 LONDON SUMMER PROGRAM occurs after deposit has been paid, the program director will use his best efforts to make arrangements for each student enrolled to attend a similar program, if the student so desires. If the 2007 LONDON SUMMER PROGRAM is cancelled for any reason, all monies advanced by the student will be refunded within twenty-one days after the date of cancellation.

All courses are being offered subject to change or cancellation by the University of Miami School of Law depending on sufficient enrollment and availability of faculty members.

PAYMENT SCHEDULE

A non-refundable registration fee of $250 and a tuition deposit of $300, the latter to be credited against Tuition, Activities Fee, and Related Expenses of $3,150, must be received with the application by March 30, 2007. For those students not applying for financial aid, there will be two installments for the remaining cost of the program of $6,000 (amount due after the registration fee and initial $300 tuition deposit). The first installment in the amount of $3,000 must be received by April 13, 2007. The second installment, i.e., final payment, in the amount of $3,000 must be received by May 18, 2007. Payments are to be made by check or money order payable to “University of Miami School of Law”.

Payments are deferred for students applying for financial aid until loan checks become available (around early June) at which time full payment for tuition and housing must be made by all participants.

Students are able to make payments with their credit card on the EASY system. The University of Miami charges a fee of 2.5% on the amount processed for this service. This fee applies to all credit card payments for tuition and housing. Payments are deferred for students applying for financial aid until loan checks become available (around early June) at which time full payment must be made.

Applications for financial aid must be fully completed before the end of March to ensure timely disbursements of funds. All visiting students will be responsible to ensure that financial aid disbursements for tuition and housing from their home school are paid to the University of Miami School of Law before commencement of the 2007 LONDON SUMMER PROGRAM. There will be a $100 penalty fee for late payment.

Payments received will be refundable only if an applicant is for any reason refused admission or if a course offering is changed or cancelled.

All cancellations must be made in writing via email at summerabroad@law.miami.edu or by fax to our Summer Abroad Programs Office at (305) 284-6506.

Please refer to the payment alternatives for the ITALY OPTIONAL TRIP described in the Italy Optional Trip section in this brochure.
